International Translation Conference on Health Sciences

Conferência Internacional de Tradução
de Ciências da Saúde

The International Translation Conference on Health Sciences will be the first international event focused on the practical learning of translation for the health sector, and with a special emphasis on the Portuguese language.

Attendees from Portugal and abroad will meet to hear and participate in sessions and workshops targeted for the health sciences translator and interpreter.

Sponsors greatly contribute to the success of this event. The opportunities, as detailed on this page, provide a range of visibility, recognition, and contact options.
